Updated Back to School Plan

As you are likely aware, Governor Holcomb issued an Executive Order this week pertaining to masks in public places throughout our state, including schools. Additionally in recent days, we have observed an increased interest from parents in our virtual learning options due to heightened concerns related to COVID-19. In response to these issues and our ongoing commitment to serve our students at the highest possible level, DelCom has updated its plan to get students back to school this fall.

In our updated plan, you will find new information regarding the wearing of masks at school and virtual learning options for students in grades K-6 and 7-12.

DelCom teachers and administrators place a high value on face-to-face instruction and the social-emotional benefits that come along with it. As committed as we are to making that possible, we are equally committed to students and families who do not feel comfortable in that learning environment at this time. If you have any questions that are specific to your child(ren), please reach out to your child(ren)'s building principal. He or she will be happy to assist you.
